purpose of carrying on the business of Cotton Spinning and Weaving at Shanghai. It is intended that the business should at first be confined to spinning, the original equipment for which will be not less than 40,000 Spindles, with Buildings and Machinery. Weaving Machinery will be added afterwards. Sufficient Engine and Boiler power for both purposes will be installed at the outset. approved Machinery, to acquire a suitable site. and to erect Mills for the manufacture of Cotton Yarns and Cleths best suited to the China markets. As is well known the importation of Machi-Several Ladies and Gentlemen have kindly nery by Foreigners has hitherto been officially obstructed, but Chinese have been allowed to import Machinery under special permits, and Cotton Mills owned by them have been in successful operation for some years. At prosent, Mills comprising about 200,000 Spindles are either working or in an advanced stage at this port alone. Under the recently concluded Treaty between China and Japan, the restriction on the importation of Machinery has been removed, and this field of industrial enterprise is now open to Foreigners and Chinese alike. REGULAR MEETING of the above It is confidently believed that there still exist an opening for more Cotton Mills here, and that their product will successfully compete with and ultimately supplant that brought from aboard. It is evident that, as compared with Japan, the much more extensive markets of China may be counted upon to consume a greatly increased The Cotton Mills in Japan operate some 900,000 Spindles, a very large proportion of the ontput of which is absorbed in that country. They draw their supplies of the raw material about equally from China and India and the United States. The difference in cost of the raw material grown in China would favour Mills here as compared with those in Japan to a very considerable extent The markets for the coarse Yarns in China have hitherto been chiefly supplied from India, whilst small but increasing imports of Japanese Yarns bare found a market here. The import of Iudian Yarns during the past four years at Shanghai alone averages over 195,000 bales of three piculs each annually, whilst the principal ports in the South of China have taken during the same period an average of 136,000 bales. The demand for Yarns in China might have been supplied with advantage to producer and consumer alike by locally established Mills, work. ing cotton of home growth. An ample supply of Raw Cotton may be counted upon, as the area of cultivation can be increased indefinitely to supply any, increased As an example of the elasticity of the supply FRaw Cotton the case of the United States during the past few years may be cited. The crop, rose from 5,700,000 bales in 1884-5 to 9,039,000 bales in 1891-2. It fell to 6,717,000 in 1892.3, but it is estimated that the past season's crop will reach 9.850.000 bales, with a range of prices the lowest ever recorded. Besides supplying the local market, the crop here during the past year has been experted to LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE the extent of 930,351 piculs, an increase within four years of nearly 50 per cent. This exported cotton would have kept running 360,000 spindles in addition to those already at work. It would thus appear that a scaroity of raw material is not to be feared, whilst the competition of Indian and American cotton in Japan will check an advance > that market. The supply of labour is limitless, and it is already demonstrated that the natives soon become skilled operatives. The market for Yarns is at our own doors, and may be expected to continue to expand indefinitely, as has been the case during the past Already locally produced Yarns command a preference in the market by reason of their better colour as compared with Indians. Of the Shares subscribed for, a large part has been taken by Chinese Merchants interested in > beyond normal prices in China-grown staple for the trade in Yarns and Cotton goods. Estimates of the working of the Mill have been carefully prepared from available data, which confirm the view that prood profits may be 8 p.m. to 8 p.m. to 8 p.m. to 11 p.m., every half hour. confidently expected, and it is believed that the Night care from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m., every half hour. coloniations are on a very conservative basis.

JOHN D. HUMPHREYS & SON, calculations are on a very conservative basis. An offer has been obtained of a suitable site a734 for the Mill at a fair price.

ALLAHABAD, 25th July. Surgeon Major Clerence Smith has declined the invitation made to him by the Madras Government, at the instance presumably of the Secretary of State, on the ground that the proposed investigation was to be neither judicial nor public; that the burden of proof is unjustly thrown on Dr. Smith himself and that reinstatement angle to have preceded inquiry. THE MANDISTS AND THE UPPER NILE.

LONDON. 26th July. Elstin Bay, the former Governor of Dartour, who was captured by the Derviches after the fall of Khartonm and only effected his escape in March last, has arrived in London. In an interriew to day with a representative of Reuter's Agency, he stated that the Khalifa had lost much of his prestige and power, and was now entirely dependent on the western Arabs. The Mahdists, he added, were more likely to not on the defensive than on the offensive No telegraph line, he said, would be possible across Africa until the Mahdists had been wiped out.
